Gandy Installations - one of the most trusted companies in the industry

Over 63 years of heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) experience.

Charlie Gandy was truly a man with a vision. He had positioned to open his business Gandy installations at the perfect time. In 1957, with a turn of a valve at the corner of Roberts Road (56th Avenue) and Johnston Townline Road (216th Street) natural gas flowed into Langley City mains. Township Reeve Bill Poppy and City Mayor E.E. Sendall turned the valve together.

For the first time, Langley households were able to enjoy the efficient and constant warmth of natural gas fired furnaces. And Atwell/Gandy which would later become Gandy Installations opened that very year, and was there to help those families out!

Since that time, Gandy Installations is one of the most trusted companies in the industry, with over 63 years of heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) experience. The current owner, Chuck Gandy, and General Manager Taylor Gandy have followed in Charlie's footsteps, offering a broad range of services including HVAC installations (residential, commercial and industrial), maintenance, service and repair of heating and cooling equipment, as well as duct cleaning and plumbing and electrical services.

Taylor started with the company right after high school, as a delivery driver, and made his way up through the service department, eventually moving into management with his father Chuck.

Although Gandy started in the Langley area, today their service area extends from Hope to Horseshoe Bay, almost anywhere in the Lower Mainland and Fraser Valley.

They say that a customer talking about their experience with you is worth ten times more than what you write or say about yourself. Taylor said, "We have a 4.9 Google rating. Our customers know that they can trust us to make the best recommendations for their HVAC needs. We employ very ethical technicians and put customer satisfaction as our highest priority. Our work speaks for itself which you can see many examples of on any of our social channels. There are some incredible testimonies on Facebook, Google, or the BBB for our business."

"Customers keep coming in because we are the go-to company in the area. Most people have a friend, neighbour, or family member who has done business with us, and is happy to recommend us! Once a customer tries us out, they usually stay with us. There are currently utility rebates that can be taken advantage of for upgrading furnaces, water heaters, boilers, and heat pumps."

He's proud of the difference that his company makes, in the lives of his customers, his staff, and the community in general. "I am most proud of the pride that all my employees take in the work that they do, as well as the service that they provide to our customers. We do charity installations every year, and my employees volunteer their own time to get this done for people in need. Who can ask for better employees than that?"

There's never been a better time to upgrade your heating system. There are so many choices, configurations, and improvements in efficiencies to customize your home and family comfort — not to mention the current FortisBC rebates — $1000 rebate for upgrading to tankless, and $800-$1000 for upgrading to a high efficiency furnace.

Ben Carson said, "Happiness doesn't result from what we get, but from what we give." The folks at Gandy get that. "We do a lot of community things — we do a charity installation every year with Lennox called "Feel the Love" — that is the installation that is happening this weekend. We also did a charity install for a home renovation project for a young boy suffering from SMA in Maple Ridge - <https://www.facebook.com/A-Boy-Named-Nicolas-606296976126778/>. We sponsor several minor sports teams for employees kids. We donate yearly to the Scrooge and Marley Christmas fund, BC Childrens Hospital and Crossroads Hospice Society, we have also made donations to many other things such as Wonder Women Society, Precious Blood Parish, BC SPCA, BC Cancer foundation, etc.

At Gandy, we are proud of who we are, how far we've come and in the quality of work we do and support!

3 generations of passion and compassion in providing home comfort to the lower mainland.
